COMMON COUNCIL.

TALK ABOUT THE CITY HALL AND ARCHITECTS' FEE.

Change of Danville Railroad Track. Electric Light, &c.

The regular monthly meeting of the Common Council was held last evening at 5 o'clock. Present : Messrs. Piz-zini (in the chair), Ammons, Archer, Bahen, Bowie, Bryan, Campbell, Cat-lin, Curtis, Cutchins, Farrar, Frischkorn, Griffith, Gunn, Guy, Hargrove, Hughes, King, McDowell, Parater, Pearman, Phillips, Rankin, Redford, Riddell, Straus, and Turpin.

WALL AROUND THE DOCK. The Committee on Streets reported as inexpedient the resolution looking to the erection of a wall around the dock "for the prevention of pedestrians from stepping into a watery grave."

Mr. Riddell, who had offered the resolution, moved that it be recommitted to the committee.

Mr. Frisckhorn thought the city had no legal right to erect any obstructions around the dock. In his opinion, it would seriously interfere with business. He said he had talked with the Coroner on the subject, and he was opposed to Attorney, too, thought it illegal to take such action. "If people chose to jump in the dock we can't stop them." The resolution of the committee was adopted. DANVILLE TRACKS.

Mr. Campbell, from the Committee on Streets, offered an ordinance to allow the transfer from the north to the south side of Dock street of the Danville railroad track, which connects the depôt of that company with the York-River railroad depôt; also, allowing con-nection to be made with the Richmond and Alleghany railroad track opposite Twenty-first street on the south side of which was very long, be laid on the table and printed. He thought it an important matter, and wanted time to consider it.

Mr. Campbell hoped the Council would act on the ordinance at once. The Richmond and Danville Railroad Company, he said, propose changing the gauge of their road soon, and they are anxious that action be taken on the ordinance as quickly as possible.

Mr. Frischkorn explained that the ordinance meant nothing more than a transfer of the railroad track on Dock street to the other (southern) side of the

Mr. Cutchins declared that there was a great desire on the part of the Committee on Streets to push through any measure that related to railroads. 'That ordinance," he said, "is not entitled to the respect of this body, because it has not received the due attention and consideration of the committee. We should act cautiously in this matter.' Mr. Campbell said the ordinance had received the attention of the committee, and that the records would show such to be the case. Mr. Cutchins had at that meeting, Mr. Campbell said, moved that the ordinance be printed, but the motion had been voted down.

Mr. Cutchins wanted the records produced. If he was wrong he wished to be set aright. He hoped that the chairman would send for the records of the committee. Mr. Phillips's motion to lay on the ta-

The ordinance was then adopted by

Later in the evening Mr. Cutchins said he had been shown the records, from which he saw that Mr. Campbell was right and he was wrong, and to Mr. Campbell he offered an apology for what he had said.

CITY HALL. The Committee on Grounds and Buildings, through Mr. Frischkorn, offered their report in regard to the City Hall, as follows:

The plans submitted by the architects have been examined by two members of the Advisory Board of Experts, approved by them, and adopted by you committee. Bids have now been asked for, which will be received by the Council as soon as possible.

Resolved by the Council of the city of Richmond (the Board of Aldermen concurring), That the Committee on Grounds and Buildings be, and they are hereby, authorized to pay to Messrs. Wait & Cutter, the architects for the new City Hall, the sum of $8,000, the first fee due them under their contract with the city for plans, &c. Colonel Cutshaw, who was present was asked to address the body on the subject of the City Hall.

COLONEL CUTSHAW. Colonel Cutshaw rose and said that the delay was caused by the changes which had been necessary in the plan and drawings; that the architects had on Saturday delivered the drawings in a condition which was acceptable to the committee and others in authority; and erecting the building-said bids to be received until June 10, 1886. Mr. Turpin inquired if the planwould be the property of the city if the $8,000 was not at once forthcoming He favored waiting until June 10th before paying the money.

Colonel Cutshaw replied that they would not. The architects do not de mand this $8,000; they only ask for it. If the plans are used the city should pay for them. MR. MEREDITH.

Mr. Meredith, City Attorney, wanext asked to address the Council. He said the architects had partially failed in their contract, inasmuch as they had not furnished a bidder for the amount specified. The architects on Saturday submitted their plans, and that Mr Wait had asked when the matter of their pay would come up. He was told at once. Therefore the plans were de-livered and bids advertised for to be erected secording to the plans submitted. He unhesitatingly affirmed that if the $8,000 was not paid that the architects would have the right to take their plans and retire with them if they chose. The only question with the committee had been whether they would refuse to accept the plans because the architects had refused to furnish a bidder within the required amount, or whether they last-named course was far preferable.

MAJOR MYERS. Major E. T. D. Myers, of the Advisory Board, next addressed the Council. He reviewed much of the history of the matter since the new City Hall hall, yet the practical object of the city has been accomplished. You can't tell what the City Hall will cost. You will never be able to tell until the building is completed. No law or edict from this chamber will regulate the cost with the Major Myers thought the architects had earned their money and that they should be paid, and he claimed that the city had no right to use the plans—the fruits of their brains—without paying for them.

for them. He urged the city to go ahead and commence the building. Mr. Frisckhorn said that while the Council was fiddling Rome was burning. "We new have the plans and specifications and should begin the work. Let it cost what it may, the people want it, and with the City Hall and the Eighthstreet tunnel in progress our city will enjoy a regular boom, and many per-sons who are now idle will find employment." Mr. Guy was not in favor of haste in this matter. It seemed to him that a very short time had elapsed since the plans in full had been received, and the time had been barely sufficient, in his opinion, for a thorough canvass of the plans. He thought the city had been subjected to a long delay by the architects, who had failed to comply with their contract, and we will be "too previous" if we pay the money they now ask for. He was in favor of hastening the work, but after the long delay of the architects he did not intend to be pushed up by them.

Mr. Parater moved to lay the whole matter on the table. Mr. Ammons moved to amend by laying the matter on the table until after the 10th of June. Mr. Campbell said the architects had complied with their contract in spirit, and that it was really impossible to erect the building for the amount spe-cified—$333,000; that granite had in-creased in price and labor was more expensive.

Mr. Ammons said: "We have been waiting five years for this hall to be commenced, and we had better wait one month longer and have things done decently and in order than to be in such a burry. There may be some electiondodge about this matter. I don't say that there is. Some of you fellows must be afraid if you vote against my motion that you won't come back here

Mr. Ammons's motion was lost by the following vote:

the committee's report. Several members of the Council at once rose and objected; but Mr. Bowie insisted on his motion. He asked that the report be read for the instruction of certain members who had displayed a remarkable ignorance of the provisions of the contract.

FATAL SLUMBER. Killing of a Brakeman Who Took Napon a Rattroad Track.

Mr. John W. Owen, the brakeman en the Richmond and Alleghany road, who was hurt at Lee's, twenty-four miles west of Richmond, Saturday morning, died at the Retreat for the Sick here at 8 A. M. Sunday. Mr. Owen had been in the employ of this company about a week, and was engaged on a freight train. The train on which he worked was coming towards Richmond, and was to meet the west-bound passenger train at the above-named point. The freight train reached the station some time ahead of the passenger train, and it being too long to stand on the side track, Owen was sent down the track to flag the passenger train, in order that it might run on the side track and allow the pas sage of the two trains to be thus effected. While waiting for the train Owen lay down on the track, with his head rest ing on one rail, and must have fallen asleep. When the passenger train came around the curve, which is a sudden one, the engineer noticed the man on the track, but was too close to him to stop the train. The whistle was blown, and the man raised his head as if arousing from sleep, and as he did so the front of the engine struck him, and his head was terribly mashed. Owen was brought to Richmond and taken to the Retreat for the Sick, where,

Eighth-Street Tunuel. A meeting of the Committee on Streets was held yesterday evening to consider the proposed tunnel under Eighth street.

The committee considered thoroughly the proposed ordinance as already printed, and agreed upon several changes in the different sections so as to make the ordinance acceptable if, after hearing the property-owners, they decide to recommend that permission be granted. The most important change was to allow the company to deposit bonds of the city or United States instead of money, and to require the company to put up at any time an amount equal to damages against the company.

After a great deal of talk the committee decided to adjourn to meet on Friday at 7:30 P. M. in order to give property-owners in the vicinity an opportunity to be heard.

OWE NO MAN ANYTHING. At Grace-Street Baptist church the pastor, Rev. Dr. Hatcher, preached an exceedingly practical and thoughtful sermon from the text "Owe No Man Anything." While not interpreting the text to prohibit absolutely the credit system, he showed that it taught the perils and evils of debt. He maintained that Christian people must not first contract debts without a reasonable prospect of payment; secondly, they must not use money fairly belonging others in extravagant display and thirdly, they must not allow their love of greed to tempt them into the vicious speculations of the times. In speaking of the evils of debt he showed first, that it was fatal to self-mespect; secondly, that it destroyed Christian power; and thirdly, that it made the debtor the slave of the creditor.

The sermon was popular and incisive. RABBI HARRIS AT THE SOLDIERS

Harris, of Beth Ahaba synagogue, officiated and preached a learned and impressive sermon. His remarks were based on selections from the third chapter of Habakkuk.
